

What will EA do with EV batteries in Thailand?

This joint effort will establish one of the largest and most competitive battery cell production plants in Thailand, initially with a capacity of 6 GWh. EA group companies will utilise some of these batteries for their commercial EVs, while also supplying battery packs to Chinese, Japanese, and European EV manufacturers.

Which energy company has the largest production capacity in ASEAN?

The SET-listed Energy Absolute Plc (EA) on Sunday opened its battery and energy storage system (ESS) production facility, which is said to have the largest production capacity in Asean.

Will NV Gotion build a Gigafactory in Thailand?

The plant will have an initial 1GWh annual production capacity before quickly ramping up to double that by 2025. Image: NV Gotion. Gotion High-Tech's local subsidiary aims to build a battery pack and module gigafactory in Thailand targeting the electric vehicle (EV) and stationary storage markets.

What is EA doing in Bangkok?

The company is operating a commercial service of electric boats, with a fleet of 40 boats serving commuters along the Chao Phraya River in Bangkok. In the long term, EA plans to produce stationary batteries for renewable power plants, many of which are facing the intermittency of energy sources such as the sun and wind.

How much EV capacity will Thailand have?

The annual capacity will increase to 4GWh as Thailand is expected to gradually shift from oil-powered car manufacturing to EV production, he said. The company earlier received orders to assemble 500 buses and has already delivered 100 of them to buyers. Delivery of the remaining buses is scheduled for early next year.

Will EVE and Sunwoda cooperate in Thailand's EV-battery market?

Both EVE and Sunwoda are enthusiastic about cooperating with EA, as they foresee promising growth in Thailand's EV-Battery market. After conducting joint studies with EA, EVE and Sunwoda will explore opportunities for producing and selling battery cells and packs in Thailand and the broader ASEAN market.

Energy storage systems will be able to receive income from dispatching their energy in the country's National Electric System market. The conversion of a coal plant into 560 MW of molten salt-based energy storage has additionally been proposed, and Canadian Solar has won a tender to deploy solar-plus-storage with 1 GWh of battery storage.

As EGAT and other power firms expand their renewable power generation capacity, the role of BESS will grow, aligning with the government's plan to reduce dependence on fossil fuel-fired power plants. The PDP
