Monocrystalline solar cells now account for 98% of solar cell production, according to a 2024 report from the International Energy Agency. This compares starkly with 2015, when just 35% of solar panel shipments were monocrystalline, according to the National Renewable Energy Laboratory.

What does a monocrystalline solar panel look like?

The sleek, black appearance of monocrystalline solar panels makes them look modern and stylish, with the added bonus that they often blend into the background. There are a few different styles of monocrystalline panels, as some manufacturers have increasingly tried to make their frames, backsheets, and grid lines stand out less.

What makes monocrystalline solar panels darker?

This process, called the Czochralski method, is what makes monocrystalline solar panels darker and more efficient than their polycrystalline counterparts. A single ingot is more able to absorb light, which gives them their black appearance - plus chemical etching and anti-reflective coating removes any grey undertones.
