

Did European energy secure a contract for a battery project in Poland?

European Energy successfully secured a contract for several battery projects in Poland. The Polish Transmission System Operator Capacity Market auction has awarded a 17-year contract, indexed to inflation, for four battery projects to European Energy.

How many battery projects are being built in Poland?

The Polish Transmission System Operator Capacity Market auction has awarded a 17-year contract, indexed to inflation, for four battery projects to European Energy. The four projects have a combined capacity of 114 MW and are located in the north-western part of Poland. European Energy has 24 months to bring the projects to the ready-to-build stage.

Is European energy pursuing battery projects in other European countries?

Beyond Poland, European Energy is actively exploring battery projects in other European countries, where energy storage is becoming increasingly critical to balancing intermittent renewable energy supply with demand.

Why is battery storage a key business area for European energy?

Since 2024, European Energy has prioritised battery storage as a key business area, with developments underway in many of the markets where the company operates. "Batteries allow us to utilise our renewable energy parks more effectively and efficiently.

Why should European Energy Invest in battery projects?

European Energy's battery projects also align with broader European Union goals to achieve net-zero emissions and enhance energy security. By expanding its presence in the battery sector, the company aims to become a leader in energy storage, facilitating the transition to a cleaner and more resilient energy grid.

Where are European energy's 114 MW batteries located?

The four projects have a combined capacity of 114 MW and are located in the north-western part of Poland. European Energy has 24 months to bring the projects to the ready-to-build stage. European Energy expects to connect the batteries to the grid in 2027, with the capacity market support commencing in 2029.
